of the hair or by your collar rubbing against it, try rubbing the hat with a cloth soaked in benzine.

A few drops of turpentine dropped on a cloth and rubbed over an enameled bed will remove dirt and spots instantly and leave a good gloss.

Hand-tied bath rugs are among the newest arts-and crafts that lend individuality to the room. They come in dainty shades, but are absorbent and washable.

Stuffed Spanish Onions.—Cut tops off six medium-sized onions, reserving the tops for covers. Scoop out as much of the onion as possible without breaking the sides.

If there is too much onion meat for one's personal taste, reduce to amount required and chop in a chopper; then add one teaspoon minced ham (or ground pork link sausage may be substituted), one teaspoon ground salt crackers, two eggs (beaten), one-third cup celery (ground); stir all together with one teaspoon soup stock or one teaspoon milk.

Fill onion shells with mixture until a little steeple is formed. Dot the top of each onion with butter and a thin slice of bacon. Bake until sides of onions are tender and steeples are a golden brown.

A tiny cross of contrasting color made in center front of bloomer saves time in distinguishing front from back. Another hint that may prove helpful is to attach a large safety pin to the rubber or tape when drawing it through casing. Then if it pulls through, it can easily be guided out again.

If linen is so badly scorched that the stain will not disappear by the application of lemon juice and salt, try the following mixture: A cup of vinegar, half an ounce of soap, two ounces of fuller's earth, and the juice of one lemon. Boil well, spread the solution over the scorched spots and let it dry. Wash the linen, and the stain will disappear.

If stains are boiled into materials they will never afterward come out. It is essential to care for them at once.

The use of dimity for window curtains, ruffled bedspreads, dresser scarves, etc., is both dainty and refreshing. It also has the advantage of being easy to launder.

To cook eggs for invalids or children, bring the water to a boil, take the saucepan off the fire and place the egg in it for five minutes. The egg will be cooked evenly and thoroughly and the white will not be hard and indigestible.

An easy method of pressing clothes when speed is desired is to sprinkle the garments in the customary manner with water before ironing and then to spread over it a heavy paper instead of cloth. This method leaves no lint and is frequently much easier than when the customary pressing cloth is used.

A comfortable convenience for the sewing room is a padded, covered brick to which may be pinned a piece of sewing that needs to be held taut while hand-work is being done. It may be placed upon the sewing machine or a table, which is a much more comfortable arrangement than bending over the sewing pinned to one's knee.

Chamois leathers that are used for cleaning silver require frequent washing. The simplest way to do this is to squeeze them through the hands in warm water and soapsuds to which a few drops of ammonia have been added, changing the water if necessary. Rinse in warm soapsuds and hang out to dry, rubbing the leather through the hands a few times before it is dry to soften it. If rinsed in clear water leathers get hard.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

T. F. Williams of La Habra, charged by Deputies Duffy and Thomas with having liquor in his possession, was fined $100 or 100 days. He's a guest at the county jail.

M. Costello of the Pueblo pleaded not guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace, and was given a sentence of 30 days, which was suspended. The principals and witnesses in the case were all Mexicans. The defendant was represented by J. Isenstein, and C. W. Perkins acted as interpreter.

Don Hocutt, a welder with the Getty Oil company, paid a fine of $200 for disturbing the peace. The alternative was 200 days.

Charged by Mrs. Peggy Greffoz of 2916 Palm street with disturbing the peace, O. L. Capshaw, V. A. Shell and C. R. Brown asked for a jury trial. They were placed under $1000 bail each, and after a night in jail changed their plea to "guilty." The first two were fined $200 each and the latter $150. Shell's brother paid the $200; the others went back to jail.

W. B. Buchanan pleaded guilty to skipping a board bill, and paid $100 fine.

To remove grease spots from woolen cloth use vinegar instead of gasoline, as it removes it much quicker and does not leave a ring.

Sometimes when you remove a spot with gasoline you leave a ring about the part cleaned. You can remove this by holding it over the steam of the teakettle.

Rub steel blades of knives with emery paper before putting away for any length of time, and they will not rust.

After squeezing the juice from a lemon, use the remains for cleaning brass, by first dipping in salt and powdered brick dust. This is excellent also for scouring copper cooking vessels.
